Which is Bitcoin?

Bitcoin was the first digital currency, truly decentralized, that didn't require the intervention of third parties to be able to function properly.

This means that Bitcoin users are not dependent on large companies, central banks, or even governments to move their money.

With Bitcoin, your money truly belongs to you!

Bitcoin was the first cryptocurrency in the world and has been operating since June 2010. This was the first time that Bitcoin was truly valued, and since then it has always worked without any interruption, based on a decentralized and extremely secure network called Blockchain, Created by Satoshi Nakamoto.
